HONGKONS, MONDAY, APRIL 8, 1901. The capture of Emilio Aguinaldo, the Filipino insurgent leader, has thrown our

Manila contemporaries into paroxysms of jubilation and heavy-type headlines. At the Manila Times says, the story of his capture reads like a romance in a boy's book of adventure, and Brigadier-General Frederick Funsion and the officers who assisted him in effecting the coup certainly desorve the highest praise. It seems that one of Aguinaldo's staff was despatched from headquarters at Palanan, in the Pro-25.00 2.50 vince of Isabela, on 14th January, with letters to other insurgent generals to send Aguinaldo reinforcements. On 8th Febru-Aguinaldo's despatches, General Funston convived the idea of trapping the head and front of the robellion. His plans were approved by General Wheaton and Governor-General MacArthur. With seventyeight Macabebe scouts, and accompanied by their officers (Capt. Hazzard and Lieut. Hazzard), Lieut, Mitchell, A.D.C., and Capt. H. N. Newton, 34th U.S. Infantry, General Function set out on 6th March by sea, and landed near Baler, on the east coast of Luzon, on 14th March. The American officers were dressed as private soldiers, and, characteristically enough. each carried a towel, a toothbrush and a hali blanket. They were passed off as prisoners." Twenty of the Macabelies were dressed in insurgent uniforms, the remainler as ordinary hombres. Nominally, the party, which represented itself as proceeding to reinforce Againaldo, was placed under the command of ex-insurgent officers, and marched for eight trying days across country to Aguinaldo's headquarters. The party was well received, a guard of honour being drawn up to receive them, and Agui-

It is said that 'All is fair in love and war, and we can well understand the intense satisfaction that exists in Manils

to-day over the success of General Function's plocky ruse de querre. We believe we express public opinion in Hongkong and the China Coast Ports when we say that the satisfaction that prevails in Manila is shared here. It is only reasonable to suppose that the capture of their leader will have the effect of convincing the Filipinos of the insensate felly of continuing a struggle which is bound to end only in one way-the establishment of American supremacy. All along we have had a considerable amount of sympathy with the Filipinos, but we have always counselled them to accept the inevitable and make the They elected to fight, and placed themselves in the wrong in 1800; and they have elected to romain in the field although it has could not do otherwise than insist upon unconditional surrender or crush the rebellion. It was only a matter of time, and whether Aguinaldo's capture does or does. American forces will triumph in the end. With three years' experience to guide them, it is to be hoped the Americans will not repeat past blunders. The bumptious selfassertiveness of some of the earlier Amerisowed the crop of troubles which telegrams :the United States has been reaping ful attitude towards Aguinaldo and his immediate supporters would have prevented the explosion of February, 1899, and the subsequent disastrous uphearal throughout the islands. It is with much regret (says the N.-C. Daily News of the 3rd inst.) that we have to announce that telegraphic news has been received of the death at San Remo, Italy, on the 1st inst., of Mr Henry Gribble, of Shanghai. Mr Gribble, a very old and popular resident in the Far East, was formerly a partner in Glover & Co., of Nagasaki. After a long residence in Japan, he went home and married an American lady, returning to Shanghai as Agent of the best possible terms with the United States Standard Oil Company of the United States. Tiger Shooting at Johore. H. H. the Sultan shot his ninth tiger near Maatkun on the 19th March. The animal was tracked into a small piece of thick jungie near the second milestone on the Tehoran-rd, and on being driven out by the beaters, received a bullet in the neck from H. H's, rifle. He bolted back into the jungle and it needed great persuasion to cause him to leave cover again. After being tracked for a considerable distance (says the Free Press) the tiger again broke cover and was laid low by a bullet which struck him under the shoulder. It needed, however, a third shot to finish the brute. Unfortunately a beater, an Abyssinian, went close to the place where the animal lay hidden. It immediately sprung on the unfortunite man and mauled him severely. The may was at once taken off to the hospital, where his wounds on the head and shoulder were dressed. The poor fellow, however, died during the night, from the offect of the shock. On the 24th, H. H. got another tigress, with Mr Buttar, of Singapore. H. H. went out to a small patch of jungle near the Dairy Farm and after a stort beat, the animal came out to the left of H. II., who killed it with his first diot. This tigress measured 7ft. Sin.

The Ashbee Bequest to South Kensington' adequately treated by Mr Frank Rinder. Part 11, of The Paris Exhibition, the special March number of The Art Journal above noticed, contains abundant matter, pictorial and readable. M. Arsène Alexandre, the art-critic if Le Figure, writes with conspicuous discrimination and judgment of "Continental Pictures" at the great Exhibition. The conclusion he arrives at s, that the greatest nations are not neces sarily the most original, and drawing illustrations from pictures exhibited by Finnish and Danish artists, who, he unhesitatingly asserts, struck the most novel note, he seems to establish his contention. In Black and White at the Paris Exhibition, Mr Joseph Pennell registers a well-founded objection against the traditional French division of classes which does not recognise the illustration of books as a branch of the fine arts. During a stay of twenty-one nights in Hongkong, the Company will produce fourteen plays, and the management wishes us to impress upon the theatre-going public that no production will be revived at a later period of the season. Each play will be staged for the advertised number of nights only, and will not be re-played under any circumstances. It is needless to say any thing in praise of the Brough Company Suffice it to any that it is absolutely the best theatrical company that visits Hongkong. The Box plan will be open a Robinson's on the 10th inst.

Conclusion of the Dallas Season

The Dallas Musical Comedy Company who have been catering for our amusement at the Theatre Royal for a month, concluded their visit on Saturday night, when, in presence of another of the large audiences which have nightly patronised them, they produced the amusing and taneful Chinese Company in this piece, as well as the muinerous other pieces in their varied repertoire, Corporal Damay Khan, who has just received their previous performances. The various and silver puggarue turban with its Mahomcharacters acquitted themselves in a favourites should they in them warm with a visit on a future occasion. Dallas Company, always good, has quite eclipsed itself this season, and their visit next year will be eagerly anticipated. ## A Postal Tip from India.

The following paragraph has lately been going the round of the Indian It has been decided, as an experimental measure, to supply the Presidency Post Offices at Calcutta, Bumbay, and Madras, the Rangoon Post Office, and the Simb Post Office, during the season, with small stock of British penny postage stamps for sale to the public. It is believed that certain classes of the European community will find it a convenience to be able to purchase British postage stamps from post offices in this country for the purpose of prepaying replies from the United Kingdom, and these stamps will also be found aseful by the purchasers of British Postal orders for the purpose of making up broken accounts. The rule as to this is that Bri tish postage stamps up to the value of five pence (but not including a fraction of penny) may be affixed to a British Postal Order to make up a broken sum For example, the sum of 7s. Ild. may be remitted in this way by affixing five penny postage stamps to a British Postal order for 7s. 6d. These penny postage stamps will be sold for one anna each; and should the results of the experiment show that there is a real demand for them in this country, measures will be taken to procure Thinking that the advantages to be derived were palpable, our representative mentioned the matter at the Post Office here, with the view of obtaining a opinion on the subject from the Acting Postmaster General, Mr Lewis. The paragraph given above having been read by Mr Lewis, that gentleman courteously favoured us with the following opinion : - 'It is a good idea; but the use to be anticipated in Hongkong is so small that I do not think it would be worth introducing it here.

The late Consul-General Wildman.

An American nowspaper account of the disaster to the City of Rio de Janeiro says that the fate of Consul-General Rounseville Wildman, his wife and their two children, makes a sad story. A boat had been launched and lay alongside. A ladder was rigged and Mrs Wildman stood by the gangway. Pilot Jordan begged of her to get in the boat. She stood irresolute for an instant, and asked for her children. They'll be all right, shouted Jordan. He had one of them in his charge, and Mr Wildman had the other in his arms. At that moment the vossel plunged and listed violently. All those who were standing by the side were thrown headlong into the water. The best was swamped, and Me and Mrs Wildman and the two children. were not seen again.

A Fishing Yarn.

An extraordinary fishing atory has ro cently appeared in this country as the product of a Canadian editor. Some men were engaged in catching sturgeon in the Ottawa River; when they were agreeably surprised by feeling a heavy fish struggling at the end of their line After great difficulty they succeeded in hauling him in, and as they got him near the surface of the water a clear sound of linkling sleigh belis struck their ears. At last the fish appeared, wearing upon his body a complete set of eleigh harness, and that, too, fixed as accurately about him as it placed there by the careful hands. of some marine groom. TRAGEDY ON AN AMERICAN AN UNACCEPTED SUGGESTION. GUNBOAT.

The Captain Asphymiated.

A sad faiality occurred on board the U.S. gunbout Petrel in Manila Bay on the 31st March. About 7.45 a.m., smoke was seen issuing from the sailroom in the forward compartment. The crew was at orice piped to fire stations, and the commander, Licut. Jesse M. Roper, accompanied by Naval Cadet John E. Lowis, and twenty-five men, went into the compartment to subdue the conflagration. They had barely entered before they became unconscious. Volunteers were lowered into the compartment, and succeeded in getting the whole of the men out, and then flooded the compartment. which checked the spread of the flames, Being the first to enter and the last to be recovered, Lieut. Roper was found to be in a very serious condition. Medical aid was summoned from several adjacent warships, but in spite of all efforts to save his life the commander succumbed. Mr Lewis. was delirious, and remained in a critical state for some time, but eventually re-

How Sir George White saved

Ladysmith. Our Army correspondent in his lette dated London, February 15, referred to certain rumours current in military circles regarding Sir Redvers Buller and his weakness' whon ongaged in the relief of Ladysmith. He was said to have sent a holiographic message to Sir George White advising action on his part which would have placed Ladysmith in the hands of the Boors. One version of the message was that White was to kill his horses and cut his way out; another was that he should make the best terms possible with the enouny. No mention whatever is made of this remarkable message either in the desputches of Sir George White or in those of Lord Roberts, though the latter, in his despatch of February 16th, notes that Buller had, both on February 6 and February 9, asked whether the doubtful chance of relieving Ladysmith was worth the risk it would involve. We have reason to believe, however, that a cypher incomes was sent to Ladysmith after the Spion Kon reverse, and its tenour was to advise White to destroy his guns and apare ammunition, and cut his way out This being the case, some record of the holiogram must be in existence, and the wonder is that it has not been published ling ago, considering the number of persons who sooner or later must have heard of it. When the public learn the truth they will he propared to give more credit to White for his dogged resolution in holding on, spito of heavy losses and appalling sickness among his troops. It was fortunate indeed that peither the Field Marshal nor the General Officer Commanding at Ladysmith manding the relieving force. - Pioneer.
